Make Better and Quicker Decisions by Providing Additional Context with the myQuorum Pipeline Notification Details Add-In for Microsoft Outlook

OFFICE APP BUILDER PROFILE: QUORUM

Quorum's innovative software for hydrocarbon and energy business management is designed with industry expertise using next-generation technology. Proven to maximize profit throughout the energy value chain, our platform of integrated solutions delivers advanced functionality, improved efficiency, and enhanced regulatory compliance.

WHAT WE OFFER

Reduce manual contract and counterparty lookups. Based on metadata tags embedded into email notifications, additional information displays in a panel at the top of the email. This relevant information provides more context to emails and helps users understand the impact of event-triggered notifications.

Improve customer experience by proactively providing additional contract information to schedulers, shippers and marketers. Providing additional context to notifications allows users to prioritize actions, ensure counterparty obligations, address imbalances, and better understand the specifics of new contracts.

Drive to quicker business decisions by easily understanding contractual obligations via the information panel. Having easy access to relevant contract events and elements helps contract renegotiations as well as imbalance management should counterparties require reconciliation at pipeline interconnects.

Decrease the need for training. By leveraging this Add-in, users are working within an application they use every day. In fact, the need for user input is reduced by the reliance on metadata tags that automatically pull through information once the user has logged into the Add-in with their myQuorum credentials.

WHY QUORUM?
